[redacted] advised that in determining the origin of the log that was involved in the b6 spiking, they found a 13 on the end of the log which was determined to have been cut down b7C by Pardini Logging which was only operating in Mendocino County in the Cammeron Rd. area.

that he had been contacted by [redacted] and requested to assist in locating from where the b7C log came from. [redacted] was contacted the night of the accident and responded to Cloverdale the morning of 5/13/87 where he inspected the log stamp and confirmed that it had come from the Cammeron Rd. location. He also confirmed that [redacted] had only been cutting in Mendocino County area of CA mmeron Rd.

[redacted] then checked with [redacted] who is a scaler for L.P. for the purpose of attempt b6 to determine the time frame that the log arrived at the mill which would indicate the b7C possible time frame that the spiking took place.

[redacted] stated that they knew from what log deck the spikked log came from. From that b6 log deck they located certain trip tickets that were attached to other logs. They took b7C these numbers and checked they ticket invoices and were able to determine that [redacted] had only shipped to the Cloverdale mill between 2/19/87 and 2/25/87.

[redacted] also advised that on 5/11/87 redwood 2x6 was going through the edging machine b6 at which time another spike that appeared to be similar to the two spikes in the log b7C which caused the injury was located when the edger sliced the spike into 6 pieces.
No injury occurred in that incident.

All three spikes appeared to not have been in the wood for a Page 4 of 5 Pages long period of time. There was no rust on the two that were located in the log segment, and there was very little discoloration on and around the spikes log around the spike.

[redacted] estimates that the log that had the spikes in it was most likely cut approx. one month prior to arriving at the L.P. mill in Cloverdale. b6 b7C
